From the President of AKTA:

The 2009-2010 teaching year has taken off like a team of wild horses!

The AKTA Board has worked diligently to find venues for student and teacher events for the school year. It has been a challenge, but with the Board working together the task has been accomplished. It is a great pleasure to work with dedicated teachers tirelessly strive to make this organization a success. Please celebrate their achievements by thanking each board member when you meet them at functions.

Linda Green has created an AKTA website that is a pleasure to investigate. If you have not visited the website do it now! The web address is located on the front page of this newsletter. She also was responsible for having the German Band play at the May Garage Sale, as well as helping to work with Anchorage Opera.

Gretchen Thomas and Freya Wardlaw-Bailey have worked to create a successful teaching program at the Mountain View Boys and Girls Club which is in its second year of operation.

Gretchen has also arranged for AKTA to perform in the 5th Avenue Mall in a fund raising event for the Boys and Girls Club program.

Nancy Campbell keeps the AKTA membership list current, which is no easy task!

Connie McFarlane has worked with the Anchorage Museum creating a program for AKTA students to perform in three performances this holiday season at the museum.

Connie also chaired the audit of the AKTA finances, giving great insight and suggestion for keeping the board in line with the budget created by the board.

Dean Epperson has tirelessly organized, reorganized and reorganized again our finances so we can function accountably to the general membership. This is a HUGE job.

Margaret Turner has helped with every event the board plans. Her experience with Suzuki programs has been invaluable. Her knowledge of music available for all levels of students will dazzle you at the November 20th AKTA general meeting.

Freya is last on the list for a good reason. The AKTA newsletter just keeps getting better with each edition. Newsletter Editor is a huge job that she has grown into with the same grand style she continues to evolve her performing career. Freya's efforts keep us all connected to each other.

Please join me in expressing my gratitude to this incredible AKTA Board of Directors.

Christine Kastanopolous, President

News from Unalaska:

It's Official: the Hearts and Hands Project is now a non-profit. Unalaska students and parents, and especially their teacher and board members, are excited. Now the real work begins. The Hearts and Hands Project was incorporated to provide opportunities for music students in Unalaska and, eventually, other communities in the Aleutian/Pribilof Islands. Opportunities include: Music scholarships (not just for Lynda's students, but for any student instrumentalist who applies and qualifies) for music camps, music scholarships for college bound music majors, visiting composers to do annual workshops in the community (airfare here is exorbitant, so this fund will make so much possible!), continued annual Hearts and Hands CD productions featuring songs written by the students, and eventually a fund to support a visiting intern (music/pedagogy grad student) to come and assist in the overwhelming demand for private lessons in this area.

There is much to be thankful for this season.

I'll be in Anchorage for a few days in November, as a silly past neck injury has caused some nerve damage to my left arm and hand. Since it has now completely impaired my playing, we're coming in for a little surgery to take care of things. Look forward to working with my "coach" and physical therapist Cindy Epperson when I am finished, and on the road to recovery! Something tells me I'll be rehearsing more than ever after it is through, now that I have seen what life COULD be like without playing.

I wish for all my teachers grateful hearts and strong bodies and playing hands. I am grateful for the friends and colleagues that I have met through AMTA, and for the new ones I am certain to meet along the way. Happy Thanksgiving, all!

Duet Festival

The Duet Festival is back! Start preparing now for this fun event, on Saturday, February 27th, 2010 at St. Mary's Episcopal Church (corner of Lake Otis and Tudor).

Duet teams can be made up of two students, or one adult and one student. Each team may play one or two duets of similar difficulty, but contrasting styles. Teachers may not perform with students. Plans are in the works to include scale testing and theory games, with plenty of ribbons for all participants.

The application fee is $20 per person. Registrants may play in more than one team. Teachers are required to help with the festival. In the event that a teacher is not available to help, he or she may submit a $50 non-participation fee.

Applications will be available at the December 4th board meeting. This meeting includes a discussion and presentation of duet repertoire.

Look for more details in upcoming newsletters.
